

Arlington Park Ready For Gala Opening

Top Thoroughbreds
To Race Here; More
Room Provided Patrons

Arlington Park, America's premier race course, is all set for the big opening Monday afternoon.

President Allen and his associates in the new organization which has purchased the huge racing plant have spared neither effort nor expense in having everything spic and span for the opening day.

Many improvements have been made for the comfort of the patrons, additional room has been provided for the race fans by the change in the position of the guard rails the horses have been brought closer to the "rail birds."

The big establishment has been cleaned and scrubbed from top to bottom, the grounds have been prettied up and when the fans swarm through the gates for the inaugural handicap and a fine supporting card on opening day, they will see the finest race course in America ready to greet them in all its glory.

The many trees, shrubs and hedges have been grown to the point where Arlington Park is truly a park and not merely a race track.

The 1,000 acres of natural beauty will be at its best from the blooming rose hedge along the home stretch to the vistas of orchards and meadows in the distance.

The long rows of stables in the west part of the grounds which during the racing season is a young city in itself will be filled with the cream of America's thoroughbreds from every section of the country.

Arlington Park and Washington park have joined in a racing program which during two months will give to the horsemen over $900,000 in purses and this huge purse distribution will insure a wealth of good racing material which all goes to make up evenly balanced fields, with limit entries and the keenest kind of competition.

Arlington has long been the most popular race course in the Chicago area and with the many new features and the new policies of the new management its popularity for this season and in years to come seems bound to eclipse all previous records.

President Allen has designated this Sunday, the day before the opening as "open house" and has invited the public to come out to Arlington and inspect the big racing plant, look over the horses and enjoy the 1,000 acres of Arlington's natural beauty.

The huge "tote" will be given a try out and two regular races will be run, with real race horses and real jockeys to make it a realistic affair and not merely a "ghost race."

Many of the country's leading "saddle bugs" will ride at Arlington and the fans will have an opportunity to see their favorite jockeys as well as their favorite horses in action during the big meeting.

Everything points to a most successful season at Arlington Park this year. The regular Monday ladies days which proved so popular last year will be continued this season and with the outstanding program of big stakes and the supporting cast of worth while purses for every race, and the huge holiday and week-end offerings, bringing the best horses in the country to Arlington Park, it appears that the stage is all set for a record breaking season and that a record inaugural crowd will be on hand Monday to join in that hair raising shout "they're off" which is dear to every race fan.

Glen Benson Reports No Fifth Column Among His Scandinavians

Glen Benson of Arlington Seating Co., returned home Wednesday from Superior, Wis., where he had spent the week-end with his family and participated in a reunion of the Scandinavians of that part of Wisconsin. He reports that the Swedish and Norwegian folk are prepared to meet any fifth column uprising that might develop in that part of Wisconsin.

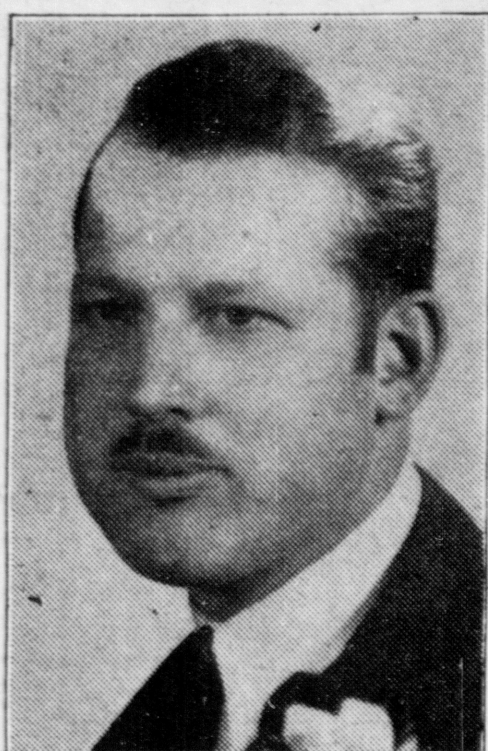

Glen says that he defies any "dutchmen" to display greater patriotism than his Scandinavians. The proportion in the Arlington Seating Co. office is one Scandinavian to four "Dutchmen," but the writer bets on Glen.

O'Connors Start Additional Homes

J. P. and J. W. O'Connor, have started work on a number of additional homes in Arlington Heights. Three are under construction on North Chestnut, immediately north of Euclid, and a fourth one is being erected on North Dunton. All of these houses are sold, according to Charles West, sales manager.

Mr. West urges prospective home owners who anticipate the use of FHA to act at once. There is no telling what effect the European war may have on present government programs.

The O'Connors are not particularly interested in any particular subdivision, but are building homes in any section of town in which prospective owners are interested.

OTTO GAARE, New president of Palatine Lions club.

Come On, Kids— The Water's Fine

Arlington Heights swimming pool opens Saturday afternoon. There is little more that can be said, except—that the water is fine. There is no change in prices, but fifty cents can be saved by purchasing a ticket which provides $3.50 in swims for $3.00. The tickets are transferable and anybody can use them. As announced in last week's paper, no charge is made for swims Tuesday and Friday mornings between 10:30 and 12:30 o'clock.

Entertains With Honolulu Movies In Technicolor

A group of Arlington Heights people had the opportunity on last Thursday evening to view some very fine technicolor films on Honolulu, at the home of Mrs. Fayette Briggs. The films show parades and events that have taken place about the islands during the past two years, and included the lovely scenery of that country.

The films were shown by Mr. Jeff Davis, whose hobby is movies with Mrs. Davis and a son, were guests at the home of Mrs. Fayette Briggs for several days last week. The Davis family are friends of Ralph Briggs who has spent the past few years in the Island. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were enroute from Honolulu to Maryland, where they expect to make their future home.

New Market Opens Next Week In Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights will add a new modern meat market to its growing business community next week when the Arlington Provision Company opens at 13 West Campbell street, formerly occupied by the Royal Blue store.

Work is now in progress on remodeling and the installation of fixtures and refrigerators. The new market is in charge of Ray Wittenbrink who owns and operates the Des Plaines Provision Company on Center st., Des Plaines. Further details and opening announcement will appear in next week's issue of this newspaper.

Chicken Feathers New Obstacle At Treatment Plant

Arlington Heights is not going to call in the FBI to discover who is throwing chicken feathers down the sewer every Thursday and Friday, but the city council has asked the local police sleuths to put an end to the practice. Sewers handle a lot of things but chicken feathers are among the things that hinder the operation of the treatment plant.

It is presumed that the guilty person is one who prepares poultry for week-end sale, but investigation to this date has not uncovered a thing except a lot of chicken feathers.

Elk Grove Democrats To Hold Picnic July 7

Arlington Is Next Stop For King Horse

"If's and And's" Threaten New Well

The proposed new well for Arlington Heights that appeared to have such a clear path at the meeting of the Arlington Heights village council two weeks ago has encountered so many "if's and and's" that the new well may be dropped and no further action taken.

The little "if's and and's" did not make their appearance all at one moment at the board meeting last Monday night, but as the board members began to delve into the requirements of the necessary bond issue, the obstacles began to pile up.

Attorney Thal had a rough draft of the revenue bond ordinance that was expected to provide the money that would build the well that would give Arlington Heights an almost unlimited water supply. As the attorney asked questions, board members began to ask a few and the missiles began to pile up. The reporter was not able to catch all of the "if's" but here are a few of them.

Arlington Heights can proceed with plans for an additional well if the park board will return to the village the site that was recently deeded to them for park purposes.

If the people of Scarsdale do not object to the erection of a pump house on the site that was originally dedicated for that purpose.

If the water department profits are sufficient to permit the earmarking of an additional $2,000 or more each year to pay for the new improvement (After 1944, previous commitments will need $3,000 a year).

If an interest rate of five per cent is established for the bonds. (Bond issue is a second mortgage and low interest rate would not be attractive to investors).

If water can be found (if not, the revenue bonds would not be legal).

If contractor guarantees water supply.

If Chapman & Cutler will O. K. the issue.

There were a number of other "if's" but those mentioned above are nearly enough to bury present thoughts of a new well.

Owner of property south of Kirchhoff rd., was given permission to build septic tank because he would be unable to connect with present village sewer system. Owner of property on North Douglas was given permission to connect with Hickory st. sewer if he can secure right-of-way from adjoining lot owner.

Bills and payroll totaling $2,808.08 were approved for payment.

For a second time erection of mail box on curb line has damaged street lighting system. They must stay 18 inches from curb hereafter.

There was little business other than routine affairs handled by the board Monday night.

Former Pastors To Take Part In 35th Anniversary Of Society

The Martha Society (Ladies Aid) of St. John Evangelical church of Arlington Heights will observe the thirty-eighth anniversary of their organization with a special church service which will be held Tuesday at 8:00 p. m.

Two former pastors, the Reverends J. H. Ellerbrake and Theodore Bierbaum, will have a part in the service together with the local pastor, the Rev. R. J. Kalwitz. Charter members of the Martha Society will be special guests of honor.

Mount Prospect Lions Club Speed Removal of Shacks

Through the efforts of the Mount Prospect Lions Club the shacks along the Northwest Hwy., on the C. & N. W. railroad right-of-way have been removed. The club, thru the good graces of Mr. B. E. Terpin, contacted the proper railroad officials and it was not long before the unsightly landmarks were gone.

This space will now be made into a parking lot. The railroad company will place posts along the tracks as a safety measure and will furnish the necessary cinders for the parking area.

Arlington Chevrolet Joins In Sponsorship National Soap Box Race

If you do not see Johnny, Jimmy or Harry about the streets much now you will probably find that he is an entrant in the Soap Box Derby being sponsored locally by Arlington Heights Chevrolet Co. and Arlington Heights Herald in cooperation with the Chicago Herald-American and which will be held in Des Plaines on July 26.

Jimmy and Johnny and some 30 other boys are busy making plans, constructing and getting their car ready for this big event. Already there has been more registered than those in charge had any idea would be interested. However, when one learns of all the fine prizes which are being offered with a four year scholarship in any college he may choose for the national winner there is no wonder boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are interested.

Should Register

Boys here in the community who wish to enter should first see N. M. Lattaf at the Chevrolet company Arlington Heights, where they must register. A boy may enter as an individual or he may be sponsored by some business house or firm. There is no entry fee, but each boy must purchase a set of wheels at the Chevrolet company.

This is done so that all cars will have an equal chance when it comes to wheels.

Should a boy be selected by some firm as their entrant then the firm purchases the wheels, besides paying an entry fee of $5. This $5 is used for prizes, paying the insurance and constructing the ramp which will be erected in Ellinwood street. However if the boy enters as an individual and is not sponsored he pays no entry fee.

Many Thanks, Folks

Merle Guilt Post wishes to take this opportunity to thank the village board, park board, high school band, grade school band, police department, first department, Paddock Publishers and the business men and citizens of Arlington Heights for their 100 per cent cooperation in making the Youth Convention and Parade of the Ninth District of the American Legion held in Arlington Heights Sunday, June 9th, the big success that it was.

ELMER CRANE, Commander, Merle Guilt Post No. 208, The American Legion, Department of Illinois.

Des Plaines Man Electrocuted In Own Home

John Bollinger, 771 Laurel st., Des Plaines, was electrocuted Saturday afternoon while working at a work-bench in the basement of his home. The Des Plaines fire department attempted to revive him with a pulmotor, but were unsuccessful.

Mr. Bollinger had worked many years for the Curtiss Candy company and has played in Mel Borchart's orchestra during the evenings. He had been using one of the machines on his work bench when accidentally electrocuted.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday from the Oehler chapel.

At an inquest held by the coroner's office Monday morning at the Oehler Home for Funerals the jury voted it was an accident, but recommended that the sander be inspected and also the wiring in the basement.

According to testimony given by Mr. Bollinger's brother Lynn, who was in the basement with him, John was sanding the top of the new work table and was on top of the table. He was walking backwards with the sander and the back of his neck came in contact with an overhead water pipe. As he did this, Lynn said, his muscles stiffened and he seemed unable to let go of the sander's handles. He finally did break loose and then collapsed upon the table.

Row Of Moline Elms At High School Memorial To Son Of Nurseryman

Perhaps you have never noticed the row of moline elms on the east side of the Arlington Heights high school, but there are many admirers of nature who have marveled at their beauty without a thought as to how they got there.

That row of trees were only two year old grafts, three feet high fifteen years ago when they were placed there by George Klehm and his son, Edwin. Edwin died that fall and his father always considered that row of trees as a memorial to Edwin, whose unwillingness to discard the trees brought about their planting.

The Moline elm was introduced by Mr. George Klehm in 1918, planting them at the north side Arlington Heights elementary school to test them out for appearance and growth. They proved so successful Mr. Klehm later introduced them in Milwaukee, which now has 70,000 of them bordering their streets.

It was at the supper table fifteen years ago that Edwin said to his dad, "Dad, we have nine moline elms left over from that shipment; it is not worth while to return them away. What will we do with them?" After finishing supper that evening the father and son went to the high school grounds and planted them forty feet apart and three feet from the sidewalk.

Today they are thirty feet high and a foot thick; their leaves are as glossy as though they were varnished.

Blitzkrieg At Arlington July 4th Celebration

Veteran School Man Retires After 51 Years of Service

Rudolph Kranz, Arlington Heights, after 51 years service in the Lutheran schools, is now a private citizen. His retirement from the Arlington Heights school where he has spent forty-one years, became effective with the close of the school year.

He is still hale and hearty and is looking forward to a life of leisure surrounded by his family, with occasional fishing trips. "I have retired from school work," states Mr. Kranz, "but not from fishing trips." His prowess in that line is attested by numerous specimens about his home.

Mr. Kranz came to Arlington Heights in 1899 when the Lutheran school faculty comprised Fred Militzer and himself. Over a thousand Lutheran children of the local congregation have passed through his hands. The faculty of two became a faculty of five, and will be increased to six the coming year.

This veteran school teacher has not only been a good school teacher, but likewise a good father. He is the dad to ten children and the grandfather to six. His first helpmate, the late Carrie Harmering, of Palatine, died in 1900. His present wife is Martha Garlich, of Elk Grove. Six of the ten children are married and have homes of their own. The other four reside at home.

The children are Emily and Esther who married two brothers, Max and Carl Schuette, and reside in Chicago; Lydia (Mrs. Walter Grant) Peoria; Esther (Mrs. Walter Landmeier) Bensenville; Elizabeth (Mrs. Ralph Meyer) Arlington Heights; Annetta (Mrs. Andy Cassidy) Mt. Carmel; Carolyn, Lois, Rudolph and Leonard, who reside at home.

Mr. Kranz was born in Germany April 10, 1868, coming to America with his parents when five years old. Milwaukee was the family home until Rudolph entered Addison College to prepare for a school teacher. He graduated in 1889. His first charge was at an orphanage at Wittenberg, Wis. Two years later he went to So. Chicago and from there to Niles on Milwaukee ave., then known as Dutchman's Point. He was called to Arlington Heights in 1899.

Pilots Behrens and Schneberger Entertain With 'Air' Parties

Thirteen Arlington Heights residents, and some of them were very pretty girls, states Carl Behrens, Jr., were guests of Carl Sunday in plane rides over Arlington Heights. The plane can only take one passenger and Carl had to make many trips from the Ravenswood airport to be host to his group of friends.

The plane did double duty that day as its other owner, George Schneberger, Jr., is also a pilot and has some charming friends of his own.

Note: This story was brought to the Herald office from some of the fair passengers, who praised highly the courtesy shown them by the air Lochinvars.

Local Fighter Invited To Enter International Boxing Preliminaries

Henry C. Nichols, Jr., has been invited by Bishop Shield to go to Round Lake camp June 30 to enter training with other boys for the International boxing match that will occur at Soldiers Field between teams of Hawaii and United States. Henry feels that it is an honor to be invited to enter such fast company, whether he wins or loses.

Paul Carroll accompanied Henry C. Nichols Friday evening to the Marine boxing show where Henry, Jr., defeated Andy Parks at 126 pounds.

Plane Jumpers and 'Dog Fights' Part of Entertainment

Seeking new thrills for this year's Arlington Heights community Fourth of July celebration, arrangements are nearly completed for a realistic "blitzkrieg." Between seven and eight o'clock that evening professional plane jumpers will leave airplane three thousand feet in the air and land on the ball diamond. It is also planned as a grand finale to the air show that two planes will engage in a "dog fight" presenting a realistic picture of what is happening over in Europe.

This air show will be presented immediately after the supper hour for the special benefit of those who plan to attend the evening program, which includes a $1,000 fire works show.

Last year, over 5,000 people witnessed the evening fireworks display, declaring it to be the finest presented in recent years in this part of Cook county. An even greater display is under contract for 1940.

Arlington Heights celebration is again being presented by the business men under the auspices of the Trade and Civic association. The day's events will start with a big parade at ten o'clock in which many local organizations will be augmented by the senior drum and bugle corps of Crystal Lake and perhaps the championship Palatine high school marching band.

The crack Arlington Heights ball team will play a Kenosha team in the afternoon. There will be tennis and other events that will provide entertainment. Dancing will have a prominent place on the program and other events will complete the celebration that will be patriotic in character with not a dull moment in the entire day.

This celebration should not be confused with the usual carnival. There will be no rides, but plenty of refreshment booths as well as the corn game which is always so popular.

The general committee is meeting tonight to complete the program which will be published in full in the next issue.

RUDOLPH KRANZ, retired Lutheran school teacher.

Judge Denies Wolfgram Motion To Quash Two G. J. Indictments

Arthur Wolfgram, Des Plaines, must stand trial on June 28 on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and reckless driving. Judge Bolton ruled last Friday morning when a motion to quash the indictments against Wolfgram was argued by his attorney Frank Zaleski. Wolfgram had been charged with the two charges following his acquittal by the coroner's jury in Des Plaines after it was alleged his car hit and killed Mr. and Mrs. William Ellwitz on April 13 at River road and Van Bureau street.

Attorney Zaleski had filed a motion to quash the indictments of the grand jury the week previous but Judge Bolton denied the motion and set Wolfgram's trial date as June 28.

Pastor H. C. Fricke and Mr. Geo. F. Meyer are delegates of St. Peter's church. The faculty of the school, Messrs. O. Kolb, Theo. Preuss, K. L. Busse, H. C. Landeck and R. Kranz will also attend the convention.

Wear Your Button Be a Booster For July 4th Show

If you are wearing a Fourth of July button, you are a booster for the coming celebration that is being given by Arlington Heights Trade and Civic association. The buttons are on sale in nearly all business houses in town at 25c each.

The buttons are valuable. There is a duplicate number in every hundred buttons that are sold. If you find your duplicate number on the grounds July 4, both of you will collect $2.50. There will be prize awards every hour that will be given to some wearer of those buttons and at eleven o'clock right after the close of the fireworks there will be the grand award.

The proceeds from the sale of the buttons will be used entirely to pay the expense in connection with the costs of the firework display which will be better and bigger than ever.

Button or buttons on your coat will tell the world that you have done your part. You can help further by buying your buttons at once. Get one for every member of the family and be a booster for Arlington Heights, your state and nation.

Begin attending regularly, and you will be quickened by a modern, growing, alert, timely message to today.

FIRE PREVENTION

by ALEX LIPS

What To Do in Case of Fire

The first thing to do when a fire is discovered is to KEEP COOL. Train yourself in that respect, it is valuable. If the fire cannot be put out immediately, call the Fire Department, and be sure to give the correct location by street and number, and particularly, whether North, South, East or West to prevent the fire department losing time by going in the wrong direction, as that has some times happened. It is a good idea to keep the fire station telephone number attached to your telephone instrument. Do not open the doors or windows as that creates a draught and naturally spreads the fire. It is important to keep it localized if possible. Valuable papers, if kept in the home, should be kept in one container in a central location so it can quickly be taken up when hurriedly leaving a burning building. When driving your car give the fire department the right-of-way, your home may be burning.

Local Dealer Urges Trim Accident Toll By Checkup Of Tires

"After nearly two and a half years' use on the cars of average Americans under all types of driving, survey and test records have shown," declares Elroy Winkelman local Goodyear dealer, "that the Marathon tire, has piled up billions of highway miles proving itself an entirely satisfactory product."

This is important now, when a large percentage of the middle-class group of Americans is thinking about a trip, or about putting new casings on their cars to insure against accidents in Summer traffic when tire failures may be the beginning of a great deal of trouble.

"Opportunities to spread the application of new tires to older cars with an attractive proposition is provided in the two and four-tire sets which we are offering," Mr. Winkelman continued. "Largest percentage of tire replacement is either for two or four tires, seldom for one or three," he pointed out, "and figures show that the majority of tire buyers would prefer to purchase either two or four rather than just one, which is usually all they can afford, if they buy a good grade tire made by a recognized manufacturer."

"That's why our two or four Marathon offer is important to people who are watchful of their budgets and who want at the same time to buy tested merchandise. That's why the Marathon's record is worth considering."

"In addition there's the lifetime guarantee which applies to the Marathon which makes it an even better proposition. Tire inspection costs nothing and is good safety precaution to take. We'll be pleased to look over tires for wheel alignment, unbalanced braking and so on to insure getting the most miles out of tires, as well as to point out which ones are dangerous and require replacing."

for a safe distance.

7. On a roadway lined for traffic a vehicle shall be driven entirely within one lane and shall not be moved from such lane unless the movement can be made in safety. Official signs designating certain uses of specified lanes shall be obeyed.

8. Except as necessary for overtaking and passing, the driver of a motor vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent having due regard for speed, traffic, and road conditions. ## Flower Show of Garden Club Good Showing

The annual spring flower show of the local Garden Club drew a large crowd of interested spectators on last Saturday and Sunday at the Arlington Heights Field House, when some five hundred visitors came to enjoy the many beautiful flowers and garden exhibits—the arrangements of members of the club and many other local gardeners.

The show had been planned in a most pleasing manner, with a forest scene complete with bubbling brook, greeting the visitor as he came through the entrance. This exhibit, the work of Mr. Rex Volz, superintendent of Division One of Cook County Forest Preserve, and an ardent gardener, and Mr. Theodore Militzer also a local gardener enthusiast, contained in complete all one will find in a local Forest Preserve, even to the sign "Please Do Not Pick the Wild Flowers," and gave a most realistic setting to the entire show.

Flanking either side of the entrance were two formal arrangements of potted plants, attractively complete with a colorful formal border containing sweet alyssum, annual phlox and petunias. This display was arranged by Mr. Hugo Thal and Mr. N. E. Carlson and contained a great variety of plants, from local exhibitors.

Two large urns, which Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmer brought back from their Mexican trip, contained ferns and added much to the beauty of the formal arrangement.

The outstanding single flower of the entire show was a pure white peonie entered by Mr. Gunderson of Mt. Prospect, and was of the La Cynge variety.

Due to the backward season the floral exhibit was not as large as usual, but those displayed were of excellent quality. Peonies, roses and iris made up the largest share of entries. Also, due to an error in the local paper of last week, stating that the judging would take place on Sunday, rather than on Saturday, many entries were made too late for the judging, which took place on Saturday morning.

The shadow boxes containing adult floral arrangements, and miniature arrangements by the children, added greatly to the show.

A new feature this year was the table settings, showing summer arrangements, with pleasing and unusual floral center pieces.

All members of the local club worked hard to make the show the success that it was, and the general committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Mr. Patrick, chairman, Mr. Carlson, Mr. Militzer, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Fehlin, Mr. Thal and Mr. Whipple.

Judges for the show were Mr. Frank Isel of Lombard and Mrs. A. R. Moreen of Palatine.

Miss Ethel Hellman of Downers Grove is a guest of Leone Wiersky for the next two weeks.

Cub Scout Picnic A Success

Fifty Cubs and their parents held their annual picnic and last Pack meeting of the season at Camp Reinberg on last Sunday afternoon and evening.

The group were most fortunate in having Mr. Chase, physical director of the Union League Club of Chicago as a special guest, who most ably directed the game period of the picnic.

During the Pack meeting five boys were awarded honors by Mr. Schapanski.

The closing feature of the picnic was a "Tug-O-War" in which the boys allowed the fathers to win in honor of Fathers day. No casualties occurred at the picnic to mar the pleasant day, and no ill reports have been received following the great quantity of pop and ice cream and other goodies that was consumed. Boys can really "Take and put it," the committee has decided.

The committee in charge of the picnic was composed of Mr. Robert Blackburn, Mr. Kurtz and Mr. Paul Williams and Mr. Rohlfing.

The maid of honor wore a gown of pink velvety and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids wore in pastel shades of blue and yellow velvety, and their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink and yellow roses.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Frank Colba, who served as best man and Roland Koenig, brother of the bride and Mr. Norman Greenacre, who served as ushers. They were formally attired.

It's One Happy Family At Deike's

The Deike General store on Route 53 and Biesterfeld road is one of the few remaining countryside stores in northwestern Cook county that is visited regularly each morning by the farmers in that vicinity, who bring their milk to market.

Twenty-nine years ago, there was a butter factory at this site. Today, a milk truck has supplanted the factory, but Deike's corner is still the common meeting place where the farmers delight to pass the time of the day and learn the latest bit of local news.

E. H. Deike is the proprietor of the store who takes a fatherly interest in the welfare of "his" boys.

It is one big family—a happy community, where the interest of one is the interest of the neighbor.

The scenes above were snapped by a staff photographer the other morning. In the upper picture the trucks and cars are gathered around the milk platform while the truck of Ed. Wilke, of Arlington Heights, operated by him the past 17 years, awaits the load.

The lower picture is a close-up of farmers delivering milk directly into the truck.

It was at the Deike store that the Cook County Herald was first introduced to the above families, whose sons are today carrying on the farms of their fathers. Forty years ago few English newspapers entered the homes of these farmers. H. C. Paddock in his efforts to introduce the Cook County Herald, met his prospective subscribers of that vicinity around the stove at Deike's.

Often times they gave their subscription order to the newspaper man and authorized Mr. Deike to deduct the price from their next milk check. Today Paddock's newspaper continues to visit these farm homes each week and the editors of the Herald of today are the son and grandson of the original editor, the same as many of the boys in the above picture are the sons and grandsons of the farmers who hauled milk to Deike's Creamery forty years ago.

Glenview Sets Building Pace In This Area

Palatine Constructs High Priced Homes

Glenview took the lead in home building in this territory for the month of May, according to the Bell Savings survey of new building in the Chicago region. Seventeen new homes were under construction at a cost of $167,500. In the suburban area, compared with May of last year, 20 per cent more new homes are being built with a 12 per cent increase in value over last year.

Arlington Heights received building permits for 4 new homes with a total value of $34,900. Mt. Prospect, 5 homes at $46,677; Prospect Heights, 8 new homes at $44,000; Palatine, 3 homes at $36,000; Bensenville, 2 homes at $9,100; Des Plaines, $52,910; Niles Center, 17 homes at $122,100; Northbrook, 9 homes at $55,575; and Northfield, 3 homes at $21,300.

Mt. Prospect and Palatine nearly tripled the amount of their home building over May of last year while Glenview quadrupled their last year's values. Des Plaines and Arlington Heights showed a slight decrease in their building pace. Northbrook broke into the home building spurt with $55,575 of new homes, from a negligible amount in May, 1939, although her April, 1940 building was set at $28,200. Prospect Heights dropped to $44,000 from a $121,330 report in April of this year.

Palatine reported the highest value for homes under construction in this area, showing an average of $12,000 for three homes. Glenview was second with $10,000 homes, while Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights struck an average of $9,000, approximately, for each home under construction there.

This was the largest May recorded in the ten years during which the survey has been made. In the whole Chicago area, its $4,492,183 may be compared with the lowest May in these records which was that of 1932 with a total of only $357,258. In these ten years the amount of new building in May has seven times run less than in April, and this includes this April which had new building amounting to $5,638,370. In home building also May, 1940, showed a slight falling off in comparison with April, both in the number and in the value of the homes for which permits were issued.

Northern Illinois District WALTHER LEAGUE

News items for this department should be mailed not later than Monday to Publicity Chairman, 304 N. Douglas St., Arlington Heights.

This week we have the glad tidings of a picnic. Everyone loves a picnic and everyone enjoys being with his friends in the open air, and we might add, young and old like to hear good music as well as join in with the community sings. Some time ago a number of Walther Leaguers were together and thought "Wouldn't our Lutheran people enjoy getting together in the open air for a picnic where they can have a lot of fun and do some real singing, too?" No negative answer could be advanced to this question so the idea has steadily developed until now we can announce a Lutheran outing.

Here are the details: A Lutheran outing for all Lutherans in this zone; although it is sponsored by the Walther League it is open to all our Lutheran people. The place Ilgair Park, 6200 Touhy avenue, the park with the leaning tower of Pisa. The time—3:00 p. m. until dark. The date, Sunday afternoon, June 30, 1940. The price—park regulations set the price at twenty-five cents per person.

The entire park except the swimming pool is reserved for our Lutheran people. Too much cannot be said about the beauty and attractiveness of Ilgair park, for it is thickly wooded with many winding paths leading into the interior. Many pretty flowers bloom in abundance; there is a huge clearing for games, baseball, etc. In addition to this there are tennis courts, a golf course, horses for riding, a baseball diamond. There is an immense shelter where the picnickers may go in case of rain. The owner has also promised a tour through the leaning tower, a privilege for which many people drive miles and miles.

There will be more information about this outing next week, but, remember, the outing is for ALL

Lutherans and NOT for just the Walther Leaguers.

The Schaumburg League had a weiner roast for their social on June 18. Lorraine Pohlman tells me a large group turned out and that everyone had as much fun and as much to eat as they possibly could want.

The Juniors at Arlington Heights also had a picnic on June 18, and there, too, a great many young people came out to enjoy themselves at Deer Grove. I guess they are all getting in trim for the big outing on June 30.

Congratulations to Clara Koenig and Richard Wilke on their recent marriage. Each of the newlyweds has been a member of the Arlington Heights League for a good many years. Almost their entire bridal party were Leaguers—Erna Reese, Nelda Studtmann, Bud Colba, Gertrude Hinz, Mabel Hansing Greenacre; Vera Koehncke was the soloist.

Loosing Winner

Albert Strelau, 44, holding a ticket on a 5 to 1 shot in a race at Thistle Down race track near Cleveland, fell dead the moment the horse crossed the finish line a winner.

Powerful Chimney Swift

The chimney swift, or swallow, properly speaking, is not a swallow but is related to the night hawk and whippoorwill. No other bird can surpass its powerful flight which sometimes covers 2,000 miles in 24 hours. Ornithologists found a single plane tree in Kentucky where over 9,000 of these swifts were clinging to its hollow trunk.

Pastures Can Be Rejuvenated By Proper Soil Care

Thinning hair is pretty hard to stop, but thinning pastures can be rejuvenated, says C. H. Farnham of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture soil experiment fields.

Since the seedbed largely determines the success of a pasture, Farnham recommends that the turf of old pastures be summer-plowed and worked down several times before re-seeding in August or early September. In some cases thorough disking will help if existing grasses and weeds won't compete too much with the new seedlings.

Because continued pasturing or cropping reduces the content of calcium, phosphorus and other plant food materials, most old pastures need limestone and fertilizer. Need of limestone, which can be determined by an acidity test, usually shows up first. Limestone should be applied several months ahead of legume seedlings so it will have time to sweeten the soil before seeding time.

If the land is to be plowed, it is best to apply the limestone after plowing and will sweeten the upper portion of the root system as well as the deeper soil areas. Limestone does not move up in the soil, but the solution goes downward. Lightly working manure into the soil before seeding pasture mixtures also gives them a boost in establishing root and top growth.

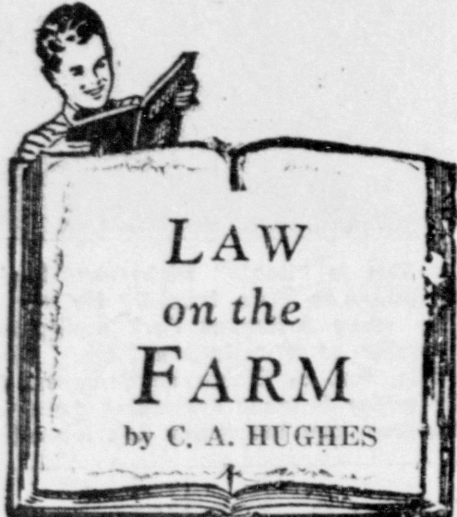

On steep slopes, Farnham says it is best to do all the plowing and disking on the level contour. He recommends that any sod draws that have developed should be left undisturbed to form grass waterways.

Pasture improvement, contour farming, seeding of legumes and applications of limestone constitute four of the five practices being stressed in 1940 to achieve more conservation of soil, water and human resources. The other practice is tree planting.

New Bulletin on Farm Tenant Law Off U. of I. Press

Most farm tenants and many farm landlords know very little about the legal aspects of the landlord-tenant relationship, but their many questions are answered in "Legal Aspects of Farm Tenancy in Illinois," just released by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

A better knowledge of the nature and effectiveness of agreements between landlord and tenant and of the rights and duties of both would prevent misunderstandings, in the opinion of H. W. Hannah, associate in agricultural economics and member of the Illinois bar, and Joseph Ackerman, formerly associate in farm management, authors of the bulletin.

Warranties.—When a farmer buys a hay rake and finds that due to a mechanical defect it cannot be used, he is entitled to return the rake and get his money back. He can do this because it is an established principle of law that when a product is sold by a merchant or dealer it is accompanied by an implied warranty that it will do the thing it is supposed to, or is fit for the use intended.

As a matter of business practice, sellers oftentimes "make the buyer whole" by replacing defective parts or by allowing him credit for further purchases.

In the sale of personal property (chattels) there are two important kinds of warranties, express and implied. An express warranty results from explicit statements made by the seller. An implied warranty results as a matter of law, from the nature of the transaction and of the subject matter. When a farmer buys an oil brooder stove there is an implied warranty that it will burn satisfactorily and create sufficient heat for the amount of space such a stove is ordinarily supposed to heat. There is no warranty that it will do something such stoves do not ordinarily do unless the seller expressly so warrants.

Continues a merchant or dealer, in trying to sell something, will make a representation which, while not true, is not stated expressly enough to constitute a warranty. Such language is referred to as "puffing" and does not become a part of the contract of sale. Due to the fact that express warranties are infrequently made and that some implied warranties accompany nearly everything a farmer purchases or sells, the latter are more significant.

Important to a farmer are the following implied warranties:

That livestock feed is fit for consumption by farm animals.
That seed will grow if planted under normal conditions.
That various types of farm implements will perform in a satisfactory manner the operations for which they are designed.
That serum and virus are effective for the use for which they were manufactured.

Hughes Meets With Director Of Agriculture

Corn Grower Must Prepare For Conditions Under Corn Borer

Recently Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes represented Cook county at a meeting called by the Director of Agriculture, J. H. Lloyd, to consider whether quarantines should be laid down for corn borer sections in Illinois.

It was pointed out the corn borer started in the east and has gradually been working west. Its spread has been retarded somewhat by successive states imposing quarantines ahead of the advance of the corn borer. Now that the corn borer has reached territory that borders on the lake counties, in Illinois and Wisconsin, the problem of possible quarantines from certain parts of Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri has come into the picture.

Just what is the right and proper thing to do when all the farmers of the state are considered is a question the Department of Agriculture has to solve at this time.

It seems if a quarantine is imposed that shelled corn can move out of this territory without any restrictions. Sweet corn, however, and possibly certain greenhouse crops such as chrysanthemums and a few other large stemmed crops will be quarantined for movement except into infested territory. The same would be true of sweet corn in the ear.

This would allow unrestricted movement of these crops into several counties in Wisconsin along the lake—it would not disturb the Milwaukee market. Apparently it would prevent the movement of these crops into Madison, Rockford, and Peoria. Obviously it would not disturb the sale of our crops in Chicago to be used there. It would not prevent shipments from the west coming into Chicago. This would unfortunately work some hardship on Cook county vegetable producers since we are in the beginning of infested territory. On the other hand we have this trade which does not mean so much to Cook county farmers but it does mean quite a bit to farmers in the rest of the state.

Illinois farmers going to St. Louis with products might be barred from Missouri by a quarantine. Movement of produce into Iowa might be barred by quarantine and in certain sections of Wisconsin, if we do not quarantine.

"We cannot expect to speak for farmers of Cook county on this matter," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "We would like, before any action is taken, for hearings to be held so our growers will have a chance to express their opinion. We appreciate we are in a territory that is now infested and that the delay of the spread of the corn borer by quarantine would work a hardship on our producers, especially the greenhouse and sweet corn growers.

We do not believe it would affect our corn farmers very much as not a great deal of corn in the ear moves out of Cook county to the east and south. However, on the other hand, the quarantine cannot retard the progress of the corn borer a little. Within about five years they will have multiplied sufficiently in Cook county to begin to cause us real concern. Our problem is to learn how to produce sweet corn under corn borer conditions and this is not going to be easy. Since the insect is a moth

Two Meetings of Interest To Farmers And Truck Gardeners

The last of June will have two meetings of unusual interest to both farmers and truck gardeners. The meeting at the Joliet soil experiment field, which is on Route 30, is of special interest to farmers as it will show several systems of cropping involving the use of alfalfa as well as the application of various fertilizer materials.

These experiments show that certain systems of management will produce as much income on 100 acres of land as ordinary systems would produce on 120 acres. This meeting is called for Thursday, June 27 at 2:30 p. m. It is reached by going to Plainfield on Route 66. The field is seven or eight miles east of Plainfield on Route 30. Farmers may drive there themselves or make arrangements to drive with the farm adviser.

The other meeting is a vegetable grower's meeting at Urbana on Saturday, June 29. The meeting will start at 10:30 Chicago time at the vegetable plots on the south campus of the University of Illinois. Here farmers will have an opportunity to see the various trial plantings, variety tests, and the greenhouse work that is being conducted.

The research work, the teaching program and demonstration program will be explained as a feature of this meeting. There will be an exhibit of machinery and demonstrations of machinery for the preparation of soil, for seeding and transplanting and for the application of fertilizer and cultivation of crops.

The farm adviser expects to drive down to this meeting and would be glad to take anyone along who wishes to attend.

that will fly twenty to thirty miles and does not respect quarantine lines it is merely a matter of two or three years perhaps under favorable weather conditions before the borer will be found in the rest of the state and in adjoining states. All the quarantines can do is to somewhat slow up the progress of the insect spread.

"We know the Department of Agriculture is faced with the question of placing this quarantine which is desired by perhaps 90 counties in the state of Illinois and all the adjoining states where only a few counties are unfortunate enough to have the infestation. We would prefer that the Department conduct hearings so that all the facts involved can be brought out." Director J. H. Lloyd states that before any action is to be taken by the Department, if at all, hearings on the quarantine would be held in this state.

Serious Damage To 1940 Seed Corn Plantings

Thousands of farmers throughout the great Corn-Belt including several right in this section of the state are reporting serious damage to their 1940 seed corn plantings as a result of the most unfavorable spring growing conditions experienced in several years.

According to W. P. Flint, chief entomologist for the Illinois State

Chinch-Bug-Proof Crop Best Weapon Against Pest

Of all methods of fighting chinch bugs the cheapest and most effective is the use of chinch-bug-proof crops, according to "How To Stop Chinch Bug Losses," an illustrated circular just issued by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Although other defense measures are listed, including use of barriers and traps, the growing of crops that are entirely immune to attack is listed as the best.

Immune crops include alfalfa, red clover, sweet clover, alsike clover, lespedeza, cowpeas, soybeans, sunflowers, flax, buckwheat, sugar beets, artichokes, potatoes and rape.

Weather can affect chinch bugs more than any other factor. Heavy rains in early spring may have little effect on the bugs, but frequent heavy rains the last half of May and in June will reduce infestations. The rain beats the young bugs into the mud where they die. Dampness and high humidity also favor natural spread of a white fungus disease which attacks the insects. A wet August will also reduce damage the following year by helping to eradicate the second brood.

The circular illustrates the yearly cycle of the bug, from hibernation in winter months through the stages which attack small grain and corn and migration to winter quarters again. It also advises against winter burning and lists resistant open-pollinated and hybrid varieties of corn.

The circular, No. 431, is written by W. P. Flint, entomologist of the agricultural experiment station and the State Natural History Survey; G. H. Dungan, professor of crop production at the university, and J. H. Bigget, associate entomologist of the State Natural History Survey. A copy of the publication may be obtained from the College of Agriculture or local farm advisers.

Natural History survey, and other insect experts from the leading Corn-Belt agricultural colleges, wireworms, cutworms, seed corn maggots, and a host of other corn enemies have been working in the newly planted seed to reduce the corn stand by as much as a third in many important corn growing districts.

Hybrid seed corn companies, producers of the seed that planted almost 65 per cent of the 1940 corn crop, bore the brunt of condemnation from farmers who saw their tiny seedling plants wither and die in the field. The blame for the poor stand which at first was laid to the seed, was later completely removed, in most cases, after extensive inspections by state crop and insect specialists proved that corn insects and not the seed itself was the principal cause of the failure.

At the same time, the experts advised that farmers who replant their corn should straddle the earlier planted rows, leaving the old seed as bait for further insect attacks.

Menace of Weeds Is Becoming More Serious Each Year

Weeds, which many people don't worry about until they see them peeping through the soil between their crop rows, are becoming a bigger problem yearly in Illinois.

Since the weed problem is growing, Illinois farmers are warned by L. V. Sherwood, agronomist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, to watch their seed purchases and then watch closely the field where the seeds are sown.

Many of the established weeds, such as Johnson grass, garlic, wild onions and Canada thistle, are gradually but surely becoming more widespread, according to Sherwood. Most of the serious weeds have made their initial appearance in and continue to spread in the purchase of crop seeds. In addition new seeds are continually being brought in through seed purchases from outside sources.

Johnson grass, which was primarily limited to the southern part of the state in recent years, is now found in limited areas as far north as Urbana. Likewise a new weed, leafy spurge, has been recently introduced into the northern part of the state. Leafy spurge can be as bad as bindweed, both of them being deep-rooted plants which spread by roots and seed and live from year to year.

Annual weeds are beginning to cause trouble in some areas. Indian mallow, or button weed, the seed of which may live in the soil for 50 years or more, may become thicker in the future if control measures are not taken. Sherwood says that this weed is especially prevalent where soybeans are grown and that soybeans may have to be seeded in rows and cultivated to help control them.

Further information on weed control methods may be obtained from local farm advisers or from the College of Agriculture.

Young John Ringling Self-Made Circus King

IN the gilded age that produced such characters as "Diamond Jim" Brady, John Ringling, the circus king, was not out of place. The fact that he actually outdid the former in his manner of living is not a well known fact, but his fortune of between 50 and 100 million dollars, and his fleet of cars numbering in the least of years, three Pierce-Arrows and two Rolls-Royces, are ample proof that this is true.

Richard Fuchs, once the personal secretary of the amazing circus impresario, tells the fascinating story of Ringling's life in one of a series of articles beginning in the July issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine. In 1919, when Mr. Fuchs first started to work for him, Ringling was already assembling an intricate and sprawling empire. In the West he had become an oil and railroad operator; in Florida a real estate plunger; and in New York a sports promoter. As a circus showman he was beginning to dwarf even Barnum.

At the tender age of 4, Fuchs says, an itinerant clown fixed Ringling's purpose in life, and started him on the career which made him monarch of circuses. Though the youngest of four boys, he outsmarted them all from the very start. He was the one who engineered the deal combining Ringling Brothers with the Barnum and Bailey show, and signed up all the top European stars. Furious, Brother Otto once demanded of their publicity head when he discovered his orders disobeyed, "Do you know who's boss around here?" "Sure," was the quick reply, "Mr. John."

'Darktown Scandals' at the Arcada, St. Charles, Tuesday

All Colored Revue of 35 entertainers, starring IDA COX, the Vocalion Recording star, who will appear on the Arcada Theatre, St. Charles Stage Tuesday.

Movie News.

Season's Sprightly Comedy, 'Three Cheers for the Irish' Plays At Catlow Sunday

One of the season's sprightliest comedies will make its merry debut this Friday when Warner Bros. "Three Cheers for the Irish" opens at the Catlow Theatre.

The film which stars Thomas Mitchell, charming Priscilla Lane and newcomer Dennis Morgan is a light-hearted picture.

Peter Casey, a retired New York policeman, finds life difficult when his daughters encourage him to run for alderman. He discovers that he is being backed by a notorious gambler. As if that weren't enough, he learns that his youngest daughter has fallen in love with a fresh young cop who has just replaced him on the force.

Virginia Grey, Irene Hervey, Alan Hale and William Lundigan give splendid performances in the supporting roles.

Paul Lukas credits Ian Hunter with saving his life, or at least saving him from serious injury due to the latter's lightning-fast action on location in the Pico swamps.

With Albert Dekker, Lukas and Hunter were enacting a scene for "Strange Cargo" in which, as convicts with a Guiana road gang, they overpower a guard and escape upstream, then plunge into the jungle. The picture opens Sunday at the Catlow Theatre.

It's 'Sheriff' May Robson In 'Granny Get Your Gun'

Rarely has a movie set been the scene of such hilarity as that of "Granny Get Your Gun," the Warner Bros. film which plays at the Palatine theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The responsible party was the film's venerable star, May Robson, who is always good for a laugh, on the screen or off.

The picture is co-starring with "Young Tom Edison." And the particular set-up on "Granny Get Your Gun" offered opportunity a-plenty to whet Miss Robson's whimsy. Her role calls for a hard-bitten old grubstaker whose pet passions are desert rats, shooting pistols at tin cans and mean horseback riding in spite of her seventy-odd years. Miss Robson romped through these experiences as enthralled as a star-struck debut in her first role. And her vixenish sequence when, dolled up in frills and old lace, she tries to impress a jury into thinking her a sweet old lady, caused many a round of chuckles.

Ex-convicts fed up with prison life and eager to walk the straight-and-narrow have found a defending voice on the motion picture screen.

The voice is George Raft's which, through his characterization as a paroled convict who strives to become a worthy citizen, challenges the righteousness of all those reform agencies that clamor for the abolition of the prison parole system.

The picture is "Invisible Stripes" which plays at the Palatine Theatre this Friday and Saturday. Its author is Lewis E. Lawes, who champions the rights of one-time-losers to return to good citizenship after learning their lessons behind prison walls.

"Virginia City" and "Magic Bullet" At Des Plaines Sunday

Opening Sunday at the Des Plaines Theatre for an extended run of four days is the outstanding double feature program, "Virginia City" and "The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet." Co-starring Errol Flynn and Miriam Hopkins, "Virginia City" tops its predecessor "Dodge City" in red-blooded Western adventure and thrills. The latter film, "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic

Gaare's, Meeske's Win To Stay Undeclared In Arlington League

Mt. Prospect scored in every inning but the third to route the C. Y. O. Carl Stefanik garnered two of the C. Y. O.'s hits. Hildebrandt, hustling Mt. Prospect catcher, had a busy night getting on base five times.

Gaare's defeated Heidorn's 5-3 for their fifth straight victory. Mel Laeseke delivered a timely double in the third that sent three runners across the plate and gave Gaare's a 2 run margin which they held. Paul Tossman and Mel Laeseke played great defensive ball to help Hayes out of two tough spots.

Meyer and Nick collected four of Heidorn's 9 hits but their work was not as startling as the great defensive work of Paul Wulbecker, Heidorn center fielder.

In a loosely played ball game, Cafe defeated Leo's Barbers 7-3. Cafe shoved over 4 runs in the last two innings to give Joe Moran his first victory of the season.

Balek and Waterstrat were the hitting stars for Cafe with Joe Brodnan stealing the fielding honors.

A. Calanca pitched Wheeling to a two hit shut-out victory over Buffalo Grove. Calanca set down seven batters on strikes and only two balls were hit out of the infield off his delivery.

Bobby Hartman and "Buck" Carrell contributed a single and homer apiece to spark Wheeling's attack. Bensenville scored 8 runs in the last 3 innings to defeat Cafe 9-7. Cafe had numerous opportunities, but couldn't come through in the pinches. Kehoe, Bensenville pitcher, issued 13 bases on balls but 9 Cafe men who walked died on the bases.

Dierking, Shiver, and Kehoe had two hits apiece. "Red" Koelling drove in 3 of Cafe's runs.

Currently the Des Plaines Theatre screen offers a beautiful Technicolor production, "Over the Moon" starring the international beauty, Merle Oberon. On the same program radio's famed Dr. Christian comes to life in the person of Jean Hersholt in "The Courageous Dr. Christian."

American Fashion Trend
Due to American resentment against some recent Paris styles, designers are now making consumer opinion surveys before issuing new lines of fashions. One of the first completed revealed that 87.5 per cent of men prefer rubber heels to leather. Since heretofore only 60 per cent of men's new shoes have been equipped with rubber heels, a change in shoe styles is forecast, as rubber heels now cost the manufacturer about 40 per cent less than leather and give longer wear.

Arlington Nip Union Printers In Pitcher's Duel

Glenview A. C. vs. Red Wings Sunday

by FORREST DAVIS

The Arlington Red Wings won from the Chicago Union Printers last Sunday 1-0 in a real pitcher's battle. Schaefer allowed three hits and the Arlington Heights boys garnered four.

Eddie Allen got on base on a fielder's choice and lost no time in stealing second and third and scored on an error in the second inning after two outs.

The visitors committed three errors and Arlington had one mis-play. O'Malley issued four walks while Schaefer didn't pass any, while whiffing 5.

As usual the entire outfield, Kirchhoff and Lemke played brilliant defensive ball, in fact the team in general was a real ball club and although the game was marred by three errors by the visitors, the fans could not have asked for a better game.

The Glenview A. C.'s will be the visiting team next Sunday and it should be another thriller. Glenview boasts a strong team, but Arlington should be equally as good.

The Red Wings have booked the strongest teams, (practically all Midwest League teams) for each and every Sunday of this season—a good game every Sunday at Recreation Park; games called at 3 p. m.

Softball Player Injures Ankle Sliding Home

Louis Brodnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brodnan, 128 South Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights, injured his ankle to the extent of a complete dislocation while sliding into home base in a softball game Monday night. Brodnan was thought to have broken his ankle but a doctor's examination revealed the dislocation. His foot will remain in a cast during the next two weeks. Brodnan, who will be a high school senior next year, plays in the outfield for the C. Y. O. team. They won the game in extra innings from Leo's Barbers, 10-8.

"Stance Important," Cautions Pro In Kouzmanoff's School

by TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

"Correct stance is just as important in the hitting of a golf ball as it is in driving out base hits in baseball," cautions Scotty Irwin, pro at Bon-Air Golf and Country Club, one mile north of Wheeling on Milwaukee ave. "There is a stance for each type of shot, and this should be developed by you with the assistance of your professional. The main thing is to take a comfortable and natural stance. A solid foundation is necessary. Heels about eighteen inches apart for long shots. For shorter shots, use closer stance. The left toe should be slightly back of right. Settle back on heels, do not stiffen ankles or knees, but, as in the grip, firmness is necessary.

If you can determine in your own mind the difference between firmness and stiffness you have made a long step forward in golf."

Debonair H. Scotty Irwin is in his second season of professionalism at swanky Bon-Air, after a three-year stay at Westmore Country Club. Scotty and his lovely, petite blonde wife spend the winters managing the Howey-In the Hills private club in Orlando, Fla. The busy Bon-Air tutor still holds the course record at Cedar Crest Country Club near Antioch, Ill., with a 69.

Bon-Air is virtually a playground for the free-lance golfer. In addition to a sporty 18-hole golf course, Mr. Daily Fee Golfer has at his disposal a beautiful outdoor swimming pool, the use of which is included in the golf ticket. Dancing—the music is furnished by outstanding dance orchestras. Entertainment—Bon-Air's beautiful air conditioned theatre restaurant offers cuisine of rare excellence.

Girl's Softball Team Defeats River Forest; 'Weiss' Allows 1 Hit

The Arlington Rangers, girl's softball team, beat the River Forest girls 6-3 in a one-hit game. So far the girls have won three and lost one.

"Andy" Weiss walked two when "Kay" Lavine, the first baseman, with a count of two and three walked the ball for a homer, the only hit for the visitors.

Then came the Rangers out from behind. "Andy" Weiss cracked a homer in her second time at bat. While two were on bases "Lanny" Steiger took a good cut at the ball and also got a home run.

In the last couple of innings the Rangers scored two more runs, making the score 6-3.

Beautiful catching by "Lanny" Steiger, "Del" Bernard and "Boots" Buncick, held the girls down.

The Rangers will play the Roselle team at Roselle Thursday evening. The girls will also play the Atkins Ice Cream team of Gary.
